TRADITIONAL

When we say traditional we are not talking about knitted cardigans, silver rattles, or bibs. There are some beautifully traditional gifts that have stood the test of time and still make wonderfully original presents at Christenings, baby showers and birthdays.

Gifts like Snowdomes, Music Boxes, 'Tooth, Curl and Bracelet' Boxes to capture all the firsts, and of course Photo Albums. These are keepers with a traditional twist because babies through the centuries have been given them and kept them through to adulthood.

Traditional gifts are perfect for Godparents who want to give the child something to remind them that they are always supported and watched over.

BABY GIFT IDEAS

PRACTICAL

The practical present may not always be appreciated but there are some occasions where they are more thoughtful and significantly more cherished than others. Birthday yearbooks, 'Bump to Birthday' Pregnancy Journals, and Memory Keepsake Books, are all useful gifts that will soon be filled with memories, pictures, and once in a lifetime events.

Documenting one of the most memorable times in you and your child's life can often result in a practical gift to yourselves. It is the perfect gift to ensure you do not miss a moment of what is to come. Of course, equally as likely is a parent or relative buying you a yearbook before you have even stopped celebrating your new arrival.

PERSONALISED

Christenings, first birthdays, baby showers and of course birth days are momentous occasions and sometimes no presents mark them better than a personalised gift.

We have a huge range of personalised gifts available depending on the occasion, sex of the child and the personality of the parent(s). Whether you are looking to add that special touch to a teddy, a photo frame, a basket of gifts or an elegant piece of jewellery then our 'Personalise a Gift' site has exactly what you need.

There is always that extra strand of meaning affixed to a personalised gift because they make them unique – a carefully selected possession for a new arrival in the world.

VINTAGE

These are the baby gifts that society could not be without brought into the modern world without losing their heritage. Items like lovable dolls, money boxes and plaques.

There is a worn, much loved finish to them which is iconic of a vintage style. They bridge the gap between an adults memories of childhood and the little ones expectations of modern day gifts. No present collection is complete without a vintage item to tug on nostalgic threads and give a child something that preserves our connection to what was great about our childhoods.

What child doesn't love a doll to call their own or a money box they can fill with bronze coins throughout their childhood?
